

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- I. Introduction
 - A. Object of the Paper
 - B. Summary of Conclusions
- II. The Nature and Extent of the Tracing Problem
 - A. The Problem of Tracing Allied Nationals
 - B. The Problem of Tracing German Nationals
 - C. The Extent of the Tracing Problem
- III. UNRRA Proposals for an International Tracing System
- IV. The Development of the Central Tracing Service for Germany
 - A. Tracing as a Military Operation (1939-1944)
 - B. The Creation of the Central Tracing Service
 - 1. The SHAEF Tracing Unit
 - 2. The CDPX Central Tracing Bureau
 - 3. The UNRRA Central Tracing Bureau
 - C. The ACA - UNRRA Agreement
 - 1. The ACA Proposal
 - 2. UNRRA's Acceptance
 - 3. Confirmation of the Acceptance
- V. The Organization of the Central Tracing System
 - A. Methods of Procedure
 - 1. "The Meeting of Cards Principle"
 - 2. The Search Principle
 - 3. Consolidated Tracing Service
 - 4. A Decentralized Tracing Service
 - B. The National Tracing Bureaux
 - 1. The Chief National Bureaux
 - 2. The Co-ordination of National Bureaux
 - C. The Zonal Tracing Bureaux
 - 1. The British Search Bureau
 - 2. The French Zone
 - 3. The United States Zone Bureau of Documents and Tracing
 - 4. The U.S.S.R. Zone
 - D. The Central Tracing Bureau
 - 1. The Records Division
 - 2. The Tracing Division
 - E. Organizations for the Tracing of German Nationals
 - 1. The German "Bureaux".
 - 2. A Central German Tracing Bureau
- VI. UNRRA's Responsibility as an International Tracing Agent
 - A. The Limitation of UNRRA's responsibility
 - B. The Responsibility for Liaison and Co-ordination
 - C. UNRRA's Long Term Responsibilities
 - 1. The Stabilization of the Tracing Process
 - A. Proposals for the Reorganization of the Service
 - B. The re-registration of Displaced Persons
 - 2. The Selection of a Terminal Legatee
 - A. The Abolition of the Central Tracing Bureau
 - B. A Central Tracing Bureau for those of Undetermined Nationality
 - C. A Combined Central Bureau under Military Government
 - D. An International Tracing Service.

