Erläuterungen

AUFSTELLUNG DER VORNAMEN

Seit Beginn seiner Tätigkeit haben die Namen dem Internationalen Suchdienst Schwierigkeiten bereitet. Kaum hatte man mit der Auswertung der Dokumente angefangen, musste man feststellen, dass die Personalien von ein und derselben Person auf verschiedenen Dokumenten oft nicht übereinstimmen. Auch die von den Antragstellern angegebenen Namen und Vornamen gleichen nicht immer denen, die in den vorhandenen Dokumenten auftreten. Diese Fälle betreffen fast ausschliesslich Ausländer, die aus irgendeinem Grund im Deutschen Reich gewesen sind (KL-Häftlinge, Zwangsarbeiter, Fremdarbeiter usw.) und deren Namen und Vornamen bei der Registrierung oft geändert wurden, und zwar von den Betreffenden, um eventuelle persönliche Nachteile zu vermeiden, oder von den Schreibern aus Gründen der Vereinfachung.

In den Schreibstuben der Konzentrationslager wurden die Namen der Häftlinge meist durch Häftlingsschreiber, die verschiedenen Nationalitäten angehörten, erfasst. Für die Schreiber handelte es sich überwiegend um Vornamen in einer fremden Sprache, die wegen Verständigungsschwierigkeiten häufig nur phonetisch oder in deutscher Übersetzung aufgezeichnet wurden. Das gleiche traf auch für die fremdvölkischen Arbeitskräfte, die überwiegend aus osteuropäischen Ländern stammten, bei den Registrierungen durch Ortskrankenkassen, Meldeämter usw. zu. Auch hier gab es viele Möglichkeiten der Änderung bzw. der Verschreibung durch Sprachschwierigkeiten. Zum Beispiel wurde aus dem polnischen Vornamen Jerzy = Georg, aus dem russischen Wenjamin = Benjamin und aus dem tschechischen Bedřich = Friedrich.

Wegen dieser nicht übereinstimmenden Vornamen in der Anfrage und in den ITS-Akten konnten eingegangene Anträge anfangs leider aus Unwissenheit oft nur negativ beantwortet werden. Nach intensiven Nachforschungen bzw. der Heranziehung von sprachkundigen Mitarbeitern war es häufig möglich, eine Übereinstimmung der Vornamen festzustellen und eine positive Antwort zu geben. Allerdings wurde die Identität der unterschiedlichen Vornamen den Wiedergutmachungsbehörden zu Beginn der Tätigkeit des ITS nicht erläutert. Dieses Versäumnis hatte leider den grossen Nachteil, dass manche Wiedergutmachungsbehörden Auskünfte wegen der unterschiedlichen Vornamen nicht auf die dort vorhandenen Anträge bezogen haben. Das Resultat war, dass dadurch öfters Rückfragen und auch Proteste der Betroffenen an den ITS verbunden waren. Es erwies sich die dringende Notwendigkeit, in diesen bedauerlichen Fällen Klarheit zu schaffen. Besonders für den Nachweis bei den Wiedergutmachungsbehörden stellte sich der Internationale Suchdienst die Aufgabe, die verschiedenen Variationen der Vornamen zu ermitteln, um Namensgleichheit nachweisen zu können und somit Unannehmlichkeiten für die Antragsteller auszuschalten.

Die Abweichungen bei den Familiennamen konnten in grossem Umfang dadurch erfasst werden, dass gleichbedeutende Familiennamen, die trotz unterschiedlicher Schreibweisen dieselben sind, in der Hauptkartei zusammengelegt wurden. Aus diesem Grunde führte man das alphabetisch-phonetische System ein, unter besonderer Berücksichtigung der slawischen Namen.

Diese Massnahmen liessen sich jedoch bei der Erfassung der Vornamen nicht durchführen. Die einzige Möglichkeit bestand in der Aufstellung einer Liste von Vornamen und deren Ableitungen und Variationen. Hierdurch sollten nicht nur die gleiche Bedeutung der verschiedenen Vornamen festgestellt und somit Zweifelsfälle geklärt sondern diese Feststellungen auch auf den Inhaftierungsbescheinigungen, Aufenthaltsbescheinigungen und Berichten eingetragen werden (wie zum Beispiel der russische Name Sascha = Alexander). Solche kurzen Hinweise führen zur Klärung eines Falles, der von den verschiedenen Wiedergutmachungsbehörden sonst beanstandet werden könnte.

Erste Aufstellung der Vornamen

Bereits im Jahre 1949 wurde in der Hauptkartei des ITS eine Aufstellung mit 110 Hauptvornamen (dieser Begriff ist auf Seite III erläutert) und ihren 599 Variationen zusammengestellt, die selbst in diesem relativ geringen Umfang eine gewisse Hilfe bedeutete.

Zweite Aufstellung der Vornamen

Kurz danach hat sich der damalige Direktor, Herr M. Thudichum, mit der Zentralstelle für Kriegsgefangene des IKRK in Genf - ab 1.7.1960 Zentrale Suchstelle des IKRK - in Verbindung gesetzt und die dort vorliegende Aufstellung der Vornamen erhalten. Diese Liste, die 6.098 Vornamen erfasst, wurde aufgrund der Vornamen von auseinandergerissenen Familien zusammengestellt und enthält neben Angaben über deren Herkunft (Land, Gebiet) gleichzeitig die französischen Versionen. In den Fällen, in denen eine Übersetzung nicht möglich war, wurde der Vorname lediglich wiederholt. Die Vornamen für Männer sind mit einer "1", die für Frauen mit einer "2" gekennzeichnet.

Beispiel: Jean 1
Andrée 2

Diese Kennzeichnung wurde auch vom ITS übernommen.

Der Erhalt der Aufstellung des IKRK sowie einer weiteren, die vom American Joint Distribution Committee, Paris, im Jahre 1950 zur Verfügung gestellt wurde und 10.562 Vornamen enthält, ermöglichte es dem ITS, mit einer Erweiterung seiner ersten Aufstellung zu beginnen.

Über Jahre hinaus wurde jede sich bietende Möglichkeit zur Vervollständigung genutzt. Neben zahlreichen Wörterbüchern, Lexika und anderen Publikationen, die hierzu konsultiert wurden, haben selbst Vornamen, die in Zeitungen, Korrespondenz usw. erwähnt wurden, zur Ergänzung beigetragen.

Im Jahre 1958 konnte der ITS eine ergänzte Aufstellung vorlegen, die drei Bände umfasst. Auf 612 Seiten sind 42.595 Variationen wiedergegeben.

Anfangs war angenommen worden, dass mit der Zeit ein Ergänzungsband genügen würde. Im Laufe der Jahre musste festgestellt werden, dass die grosse Zahl von hinzugekommenen neuen Vornamen eine Neuauflage absolut notwendig machte, nicht zuletzt, um eine bessere und sicherere Bearbeitung durchführen zu können und eventuell entstehende Ungenauigkeiten bei der Durchsicht von zwei Aufstellungen zu vermeiden.

Dritte Aufstellung der Vornamen

Eine 16 Jahre dauernde Ergänzungsarbeit hat ergeben, dass jetzt ein zweibändiges Exemplar mit 841 Seiten vorliegt, das 48.096 Variationen enthält.

Zur Handhabung dieser Aufstellung muss in bezug auf den Begriff "Hauptvorname" gesagt werden:
Die Bezeichnung Hauptvorname bezieht sich im zivilen Recht auf den allgemein benutzten Vornamen (Rufname) einer Person im Gegensatz zu den zweiten und dritten Vornamen, die aber im allgemeinen nicht angewendet werden. In der genannten Aufstellung der Vornamen wird mit diesem Begriff die Stammform eines Vornamens, von dem die verschiedenen Variationen abgeleitet werden, bezeichnet. Der Einfachheit halber wurden die Vornamen aus der Liste des IKRK als Hauptvornamen übernommen. Unter dem Hauptvornamen sind alle Variationen - seien es fremdsprachige Bezeichnungen, Kosenamen, Kurzformen usw. - angeführt. Hauptvornamen, unter denen die Variationen erscheinen, sind immer unterstrichen, wie zum Beispiel der am häufigsten gebräuchliche männliche Vorname:

Jean 1
Giovanni
Iwan
Jan
János
Johann
Wanja
(usw.) (insgesamt 212 Variationen)

Hauptvornamen, die sowohl für Männer als auch für Frauen gebräuchlich sind und keinen Unterschied in der Schreibweise aufweisen, sind folgendermassen wiedergegeben:

I.) Dominique 1
Dominique = Dominique 2

II.) Dominique 2
Dominique = Dominique 1

Variationen, die von zwei oder mehreren Hauptvornamen abgeleitet werden, erscheinen jeweils unter diesem, wobei auf die weiteren dazugehörenden Hauptvornamen hingewiesen wird, wie zum Beispiel:

Tina = Augusta 2 Christine 2 Martina 2

In Fällen, in denen Hauptvornamen gleichzeitig Variationen eines anderen Hauptvornamens sind, wurden diese zur Verdeutlichung unterstrichen.

Beispiel: Rose 2 Regine 2
Rose = Regine 2 Regine = Rose 2

Hierzu muss man bemerken, dass Regine eigentlich nicht Rose entspricht. Die Erfahrung hat aber gezeigt, dass aus unbekannten Gründen jüdische Häftlinge ihren Vornamen in dieser Art geändert haben. Oft stimmen sogar die Variationen dieser beiden Hauptvornamen überein.

Eine Ausnahme in diesem Schema bilden die Hinweise auf den Hauptvornamen bei den verschiedenen Namensvariationen, der keine Unterstreichung aufweist. Diese entfällt wegen der Vielzahl und der evtl. daraus entstehenden Unübersichtlichkeit der Aufstellung, zumal diese Form der Darstellung - dem Titel entsprechend - am häufigsten wiederkehrt. (Johann = Jean 1).

Einige Beispiele in den verschiedensten Sprachen zeigen die unterschiedlichen Schwierigkeiten.

Ein Vergleich der Variationen bei polnischen und ungarischen Vornamen führt ohne erklärlichen Grund von einem Extrem ins andere. In der polnischen Sprache sind Variationen eher selten. Es gibt höchstens drei oder vier Abweichungen, wie

Aleksander, Olek, Oleś

Im Ungarischen dagegen treten viele Variationen auf, die sich sogar innerhalb der verschiedenen Gebiete unterscheiden. Allein von dem Namen Erzsébet (Elisabeth) gibt es 79 Variationen, deren Anfangsbuchstaben ein B (z.B. Bettuska), ein C (z.B. Csöri), ein E (z.B. Erzsókocska) ein I (z.B. Irsa), ein Ö (z.B. Örzsécske), ein P (z.B. Pöndzsi), ein S (z.B. Sebe), ein V (z.B. Vétácska) und ein Z (z.B. Zsizsi) sein können.

Nicht nur im Polnischen, sondern auch in anderen Sprachen gibt es kaum Variationen. Allerdings sind unter diesen wenigen Abweichungen erstaunliche Fälle, wie beispielsweise im Russischen:

Jewdokija (griechischer Abstammung) ist gleichbedeutend mit Awdotja (volkstümlich), Dunja (Kosename) und Wiwdja (ukrainisch, Kosename).

In den anderen slawischen Sprachen, wie kroatisch, serbisch, slowakisch, slowenisch und tschechisch, sind Abweichungen von Vornamen nicht in den Vordergrund getreten. Es gibt zwar Variationen, bei denen man aber die Gleichheit einigermassen erkennen kann. Dasselbe gilt auch für germanische Sprachen, wie zum Beispiel dänisch, deutsch, niederländisch und norwegisch sowie für romanische Sprachen, wie französisch, italienisch, rumänisch und spanisch. Die Zahl der Variationen in diesen Sprachen ist zwar unterschiedlich, jedoch nicht von so grosser Bedeutung. Um ein Beispiel zu geben, hat der am häufigsten gebräuchliche weibliche Vorname Anna in der deutschen Fassung 26 und in der französischen 11 Variationen. Da in den Dokumenten die Anzahl der Vornamen im Englischen nur sehr gering ist, sind die Schwierigkeiten in den Variationen hier nicht in Erscheinung getreten.

Bei den jüdischen Vornamen, sei es in der deutschen, hebräischen oder in der jiddischen Sprache, sind die Abweichungen verhältnismässig einfach zu erkennen, obwohl die Variationen bei manchen Vornamen recht zahlreich sind. Dass die Unterschiede nicht sehr gross sind, zeigen drei Beispiele von typisch jüdischen Vornamen:

deutsch	hebräisch	jiddisch
Abraham	Avraham	Avrom	(64 Variationen)
David	David	Dovid	(40 Variationen)
Moses	Mosche	Mojsche	(106 Variationen)

In diesem Zusammenhang muss noch erwähnt werden, dass in zahlreichen Fällen bei Emigrationen nach Israel die Vornamen dem dortigen Sprachgebrauch angepasst wurden. So erscheinen u. a. Umwandlungen von:

Bernhard in Dov
Eva in Chava
Wolfgang in Seev

Schlussbemerkungen

Für die Bearbeitung der Fälle ist die vorliegende Aufstellung unerlässlich. Sie ist ausserdem auch für die Opfer der Verfolgung oder deren Angehörigen eine grosse Hilfe, da Namensgleichheiten festgestellt werden können, die vom Internationalen Suchdienst den zuständigen Behörden bekanntgegeben werden.

Man kann sich vorstellen, wieviel Zeit, Mühe und Arbeit diese Aufstellung der Vornamen erfordert hat. Die Durchführung dieser riesigen Aufgabe hat man dem Leiter der Hauptkartei II, Herrn Stephan Osztroviczky, zu verdanken.

Die vorliegende Vornamensammlung wurde nur für den internen Dienstgebrauch zusammengestellt und kann keinen Anspruch auf Vollständigkeit erheben.

LISTE DES PRENOMS

Introduction

Dès le début des activités du Service International de Recherches, l'orthographe des noms de famille et des prénoms - qui suit en général des règles particulières aux langues dont ils sont issus - a causé maintes difficultés lors de l'étude des documents qui ont trait à de nombreuses nationalités de pays européens et autres.

On constate que les nom et prénoms d'une même personne, dont l'identité est établie par d'autres éléments incontestables de son état civil (date de naissance, lieu de naissance, domicile etc.) apparaissent sous des formes variées dans divers documents. Les noms et prénoms des correspondants du Service International de Recherches diffèrent souvent de ceux qui figurent sur les documents où ils sont cités. Les cas de ce genre concernent, il est vrai, presque exclusivement des personnes étrangères qui se trouvaient pendant la guerre, pour une raison quelconque (détenus des camps de concentration, travailleurs astreint aux travaux forcés, travailleurs libres etc.) sur le territoire du Reich et qui avaient, pour divers motifs, tranformé leur identité ou dont les noms furent modifiés, dans un but de simplification, au moment où ils furent inscrits dans les registres.

Les détenus des camps de concentration étaient, dans la pratique, toujours enregistrés par des codétenus de diverses nationalités. Ceux-ci éprouvaient, il va de soi, des difficultés à transcrire correctement les prénoms à consonance étrangère. Ces prénoms étaient alors, ou bien écrits phonétiquement, c'est-à-dire selon les règles correspondant aux usages phonétiques du détenu préposé aux écritures, ou bien encore traduits en allemand. Il en était de même pour les travailleurs étrangers dont la grande majorité provenait des pays de l'Europe orientale lorsqu'ils étaient inscrits dans les différentes administrations (caisses de maladie locales, bureaux d'enregistrement, etc.). Là aussi, les erreurs que l'on rencontre ont la même explication linguistique et elles sont fort nombreuses. Ainsi, le prénom polonais Jerzy devint Georg, le prénom russe Venjamin devint Benjamin et le prénom tchèque Bedřich devint Friedrich.

Au début de son activité, le Service International de Recherches, en l'absence d'autres documents d'état civil probants, fut conduit à répondre négativement à certaines demandes de recherches. Très vite, il apparut qu'il fallait se livrer à l'étude intensive d'un problème dont l'importance risquait d'être sous-estimée et l'on fit appel, pour ce faire, aux collaborateurs polyglottes du Service International de Recherches. Il fut alors possible d'établir des concordances entre divers prénoms et de donner une réponse positive à de nombreuses demandes de recherches pour lesquelles on n'avait pu trouver de solution. Mais l'identité constatée de divers prénoms n'ayant pas été indiquée aux autorités d'indemnisation, celles-ci refusèrent de prendre en considération certains cas qui leur semblaient précisément douteux du fait de la différence entre le prénom du demandeur et celui figurant sur les documents versés au dossier. Les détenus, auxquels on opposait ces rejets, demandèrent des explications au Service International de Recherches, en renouvelant leur demande, ou en élevant des protestations. Il y avait donc urgence à mettre un terme à une situation que chacun déplorait. Aussi est-ce tout particulièrement à l'intention des autorités d'indemnisation que le Service International de Recherches s'est appliqué à déterminer les variantes des prénoms et à en établir les concordances afin d'éviter des désagréments aux demandeurs d'indemnisation.

Par un regroupement dans un fichier central selon un système alphabético-phonétique et en tenant compte de la diversité des translittérations des noms slaves dans les langues à alphabet latin, il put être obvié aux transformations, modifications, erreurs de graphie, etc., affectant les noms de famille.

Mais ce système ne peut être appliqué aux prénoms et la seule solution possible nous a paru être celle de listes de concordances indiquant les prénoms, leurs dérivations et variantes. Ce travail a été fait dans le double but de déterminer les équivalences des prénoms (par exemple Alexandre = Sacha) pour faciliter les recherches et de les indiquer sur les certificats d'incarcération, de séjour et autres attestations à usage officiel.

Première liste de prénoms

En 1949, une liste fut établie au fichier central du Service International de Recherches. Elle contenait 110 "prénoms principaux" (voir plus loin la définition de ce terme) et 599 variantes. Elle permit de faire la lumière sur un certain nombre de cas de recherches.

Deuxième liste de prénoms

A peu près à la même époque, M. M. THUDICHUM, alors directeur du Service International de Recherches, se mit en relation avec l'Agence Centrale des Prisonniers de Guerre du Comité international de la Croix-Rouge à Genève, devenue depuis le 1er juillet 1960 Agence Centrale de Recherches, qui lui communiqua une liste de 6.098 prénoms. Cette liste a été établie par la compilation des prénoms des membres de familles dispersées. L'origine du prénom (pays, région) et sa version française y sont indiquées.

S'il n'existe pas de traduction pour un prénom donné, il est tout simplement répété. Les prénoms masculins sont indiqués par l'indice 1 et les prénoms féminins par l'indice 2.

Exemple: Jean 1
Andrée 2

C'est cette classification qui a été adoptée par le Service International de Recherches.

La liste des prénoms, reçue du Comité international de la Croix-Rouge, et celle que l'American Joint Distribution Committee à Paris a bien voulu mettre à la disposition du Service International de Recherches en 1950 et qui contient 10.562 prénoms, lui ont permis de constituer une deuxième liste importante de prénoms.

Au cours des années qui suivirent, tout fut fait pour parfaire cette deuxième liste. Tous les dictionnaires, lexiques et ouvrages appropriés disponibles furent compulsés. Les prénoms isolés mentionnés dans la presse et dans les correspondances furent également pris en considération.

En 1958, le Service International de Recherches était à même de présenter une liste de prénoms en trois tomes (612 pages) comprenant 42.595 variantes. On pensait alors qu'il suffirait de mettre à jour cette liste dans les années à venir par la publication de compléments. Mais il apparut bientôt que le nombre de variantes nouvelles reconnues rendrait particulièrement difficile aux utilisateurs l'usage de deux listes différentes, les obligeant, pour chaque recherche, à procéder à deux contrôles.

Troisième liste de prénoms

Après des recherches, minutieusement conduites au cours des 16 dernières années, on dispose désormais d'une liste en deux tomes (841 pages) dans laquelle figurent 48.096 formes de prénoms.

Il faut pour un bon emploi de cette liste définir l'expression "prénom principal" (cf plus haut page 2). On entend par prénom principal: le prénom qui, selon le droit civil, est utilisé comme premier prénom, alors que le deuxième, le troisième, voire le quatrième figurent sur les pièces officielles sans être employés. Sous le prénom principal sont regroupés toutes ces variantes, désignations étrangères, formes hypocoristiques, petits noms, prénoms abrégés, etc. Les prénoms principaux, sous lesquels sont placées les variantes, sont soulignés comme le montre l'exemple ci-dessous:

Jean 1
Giovanni
Iwan
Jan
János
Johann
Wanja
(etc.) (212 variantes au total, prénom très répandu)

Les prénoms principaux, indifféremment masculin ou féminin, sont indiqués de la façon suivante:

I.) Dominique 1
Dominique = Dominique 2

II.) Dominique 2
Dominique = Dominique 1

Certaines variantes correspondent à deux ou même à plusieurs prénoms principaux. En voici un exemple:

Tina = Augusta 2 Christine 2 Martina 2

Lorsqu'un prénom principal est en même temps la variante d'un autre prénom principal, ce dernier est également souligné.

exemple: Rose 2
Rose = Régine 2

Régine 2
Régine = Rose 2

Il convient de préciser ici que Régine ne correspond pas à Rose. L'expérience montre que pour des raisons demeurées inconnues, des détenues juives ont transformé ainsi leur prénom et que les variantes concordent.

Lorsque diverses variantes se rapportent aux prénoms principaux, ces derniers ne sont pas soulignés (Johann = Jean 1). On élimine ainsi une source de confusion dans la présentation.

Des exemples feront comprendre les raisons qui ont déterminé le choix de ce système, dont on verra l'application au travers des langues les plus diverses.

Si l'on compare les variantes d'un prénom polonais et d'un prénom hongrois, on observe une différence extrême. Là, les variantes sont rares. Ici, elles sont nombreuses et révèlent même leur origine régionale. On a ainsi, en polonais par exemple, pour un même prénom trois ou quatre variantes:

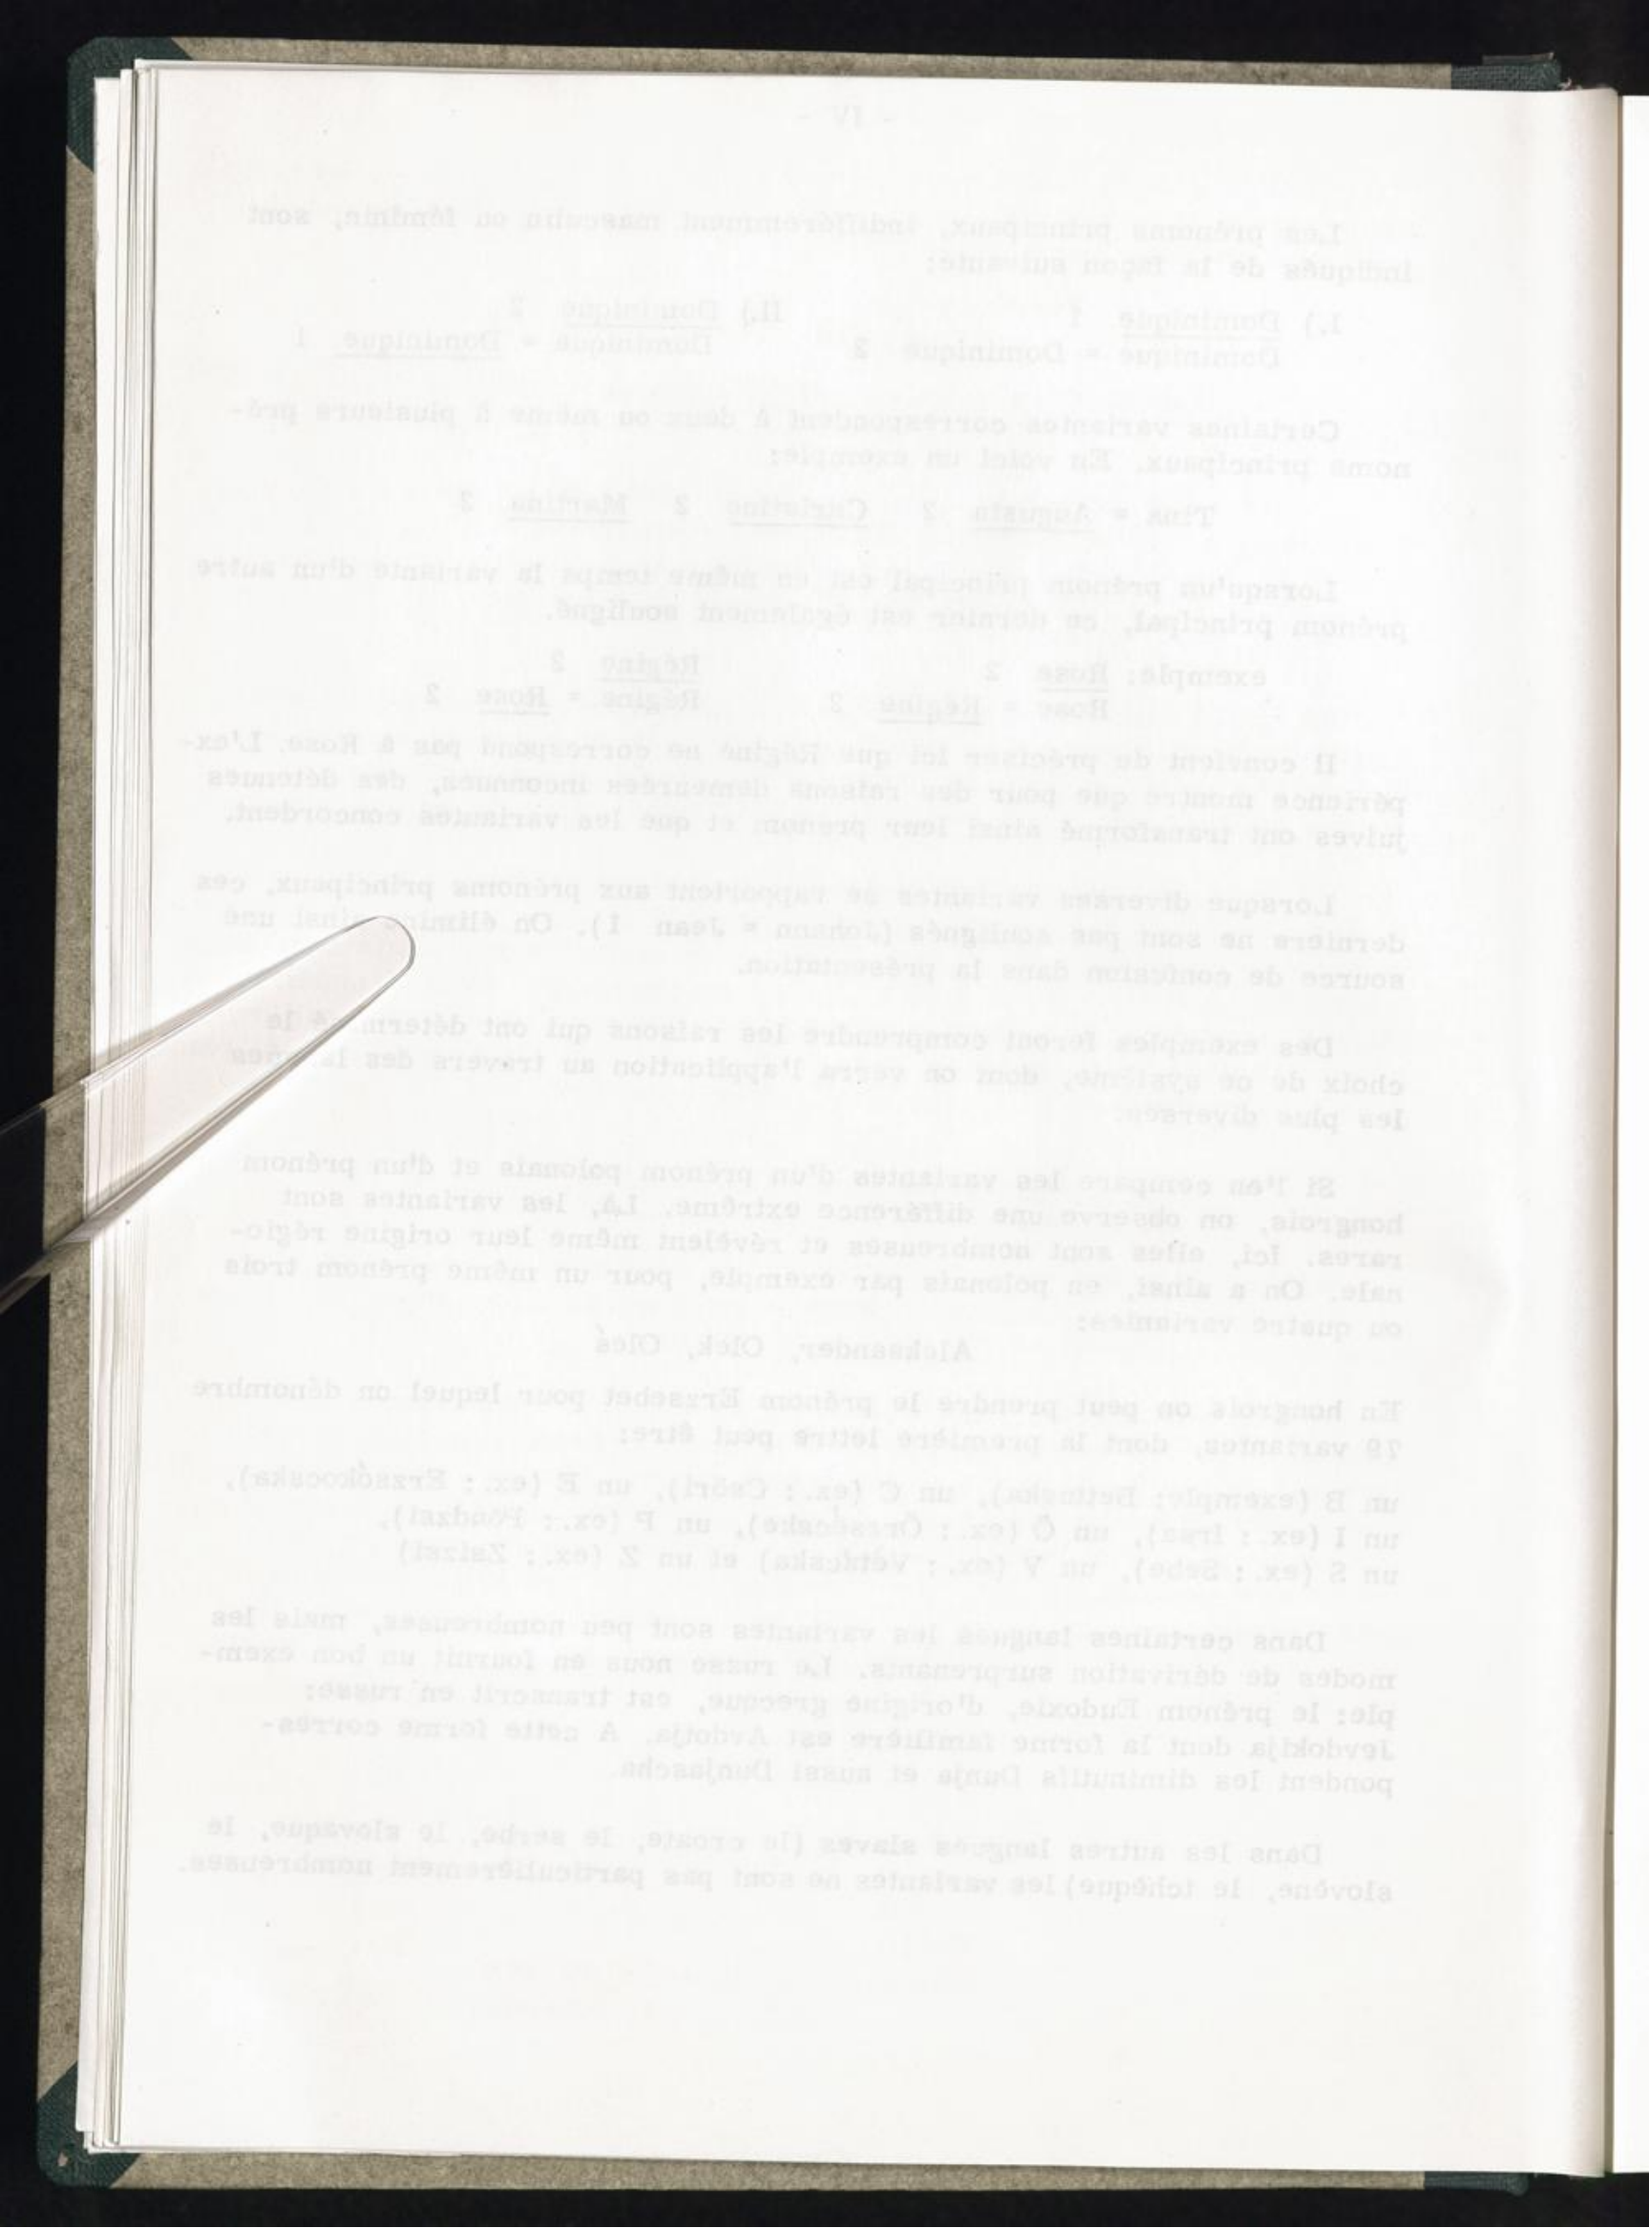
Aleksander, Olek, Oleś

En hongrois on peut prendre le prénom Erzsebet pour lequel on dénombre 79 variantes, dont la première lettre peut être:

un B (exemple: Bettuska), un C (ex.: Csöri), un E (ex.: Erzsókocska), un I (ex.: Irsa), un Ö (ex.: Örzsécske), un P (ex.: Pöndzsi), un S (ex.: Sebe), un V (ex.: Vètácska) et un Z (ex.: Zsizsi)

Dans certaines langues les variantes sont peu nombreuses, mais les modes de dérivation surprenants. Le russe nous en fournit un bon exemple: le prénom Eudoxie, d'origine grecque, est transcrit en russe: Jevdokija dont la forme familière est Avdotja. A cette forme correspondent les diminutifs Dunja et aussi Dunjascha.

Dans les autres langues slaves (le croate, le serbe, le slovaque, le slovène, le tchèque) les variantes ne sont pas particulièrement nombreuses.



Elles existent, mais elles ont des traits communs qui les rendent plus facilement identifiables. Il en est de même pour certaines langues germaniques (l'allemand, le danois, le néerlandais, le norvégien) et pour des langues romanes (l'espagnol, le français, l'italien, le roumain). Le nombre des variantes diffère de l'une à l'autre, mais il est peu élevé. Le prénom féminin allemand le plus répandu, Anna, a 26 variantes. L'équivalent français n'en a que 11. Les prénoms de langue anglaise qui apparaissent dans les documents du Service International de Recherches sont très rares; de ce fait, ils n'ont pas été l'objet de recherches particulières.

Les prénoms juifs sous leur forme allemande, hébraïque ou en yiddish offrent des formes dérivées relativement faciles à reconnaître bien que pour certains d'entre eux, les variantes soient assez nombreuses. L'exemple de trois prénoms suffira ici à montrer que les variantes présentent des différences peu marquées.

allemand	hébreux	yiddish
Abraham	Avraham	Avrom	(64 variantes)
David	David	Dovid	(40 variantes)
Moses	Mosche	Mojsche	(106 variantes)

Dans un même ordre d'idées, il faut signaler qu'un grand nombre d'émigrants juifs ont modifié en Israël leur prénom en fonction de la langue du pays. Ainsi

Bernard est devenu Dov
Eva est devenu Chava
Wolfgang est devenu Seev

En conclusion, il faut dire que cette liste constitue un instrument de travail indispensable pour la lecture des documents du Service International de Recherches. Elle est une aide précieuse pour les victimes de la persécution et pour les autorités qui ont à s'occuper de leur sort.

On peut facilement imaginer la somme d'efforts, la patience inébranlable que réclame l'élaboration d'une telle liste. C'est à M. S. Osztroviczky, chef du fichier central II au Service International de Recherches, que revient le mérite d'avoir mené à bien cette tâche.

Cette liste des prénoms n'a été établie que pour l'usage interne du Service International de Recherches et on ne saurait prétendre qu'elle soit complète.

LIST OF FIRST NAMES

Introduction

Since the beginning of its activity the International Tracing Service encountered difficulties with the names. The evaluation of documents had hardly begun when it became evident that personal data of one and the same person deviated on the different documents. Also the surnames and first names stated by the inquirers do not always correspond with those recorded in the documents. These cases almost exclusively concern foreigners who had been in the German Reich for some reason (CC-inmates, forced labourers, foreign labourers etc.) and whose surnames and first names, when registered, were often changed on purpose by the persons themselves in order to avoid difficulties, or by the clerks for the sake of simplicity.

In the offices of the concentration camps the names of the prisoners were registered mostly by clerks (fellow prisoners) of various nationalities. The registrars were confronted with first names mainly in a foreign language, which because of difficulty of comprehension, were often recorded only phonetically or in the German translation. A similar situation arose when foreign workers, mainly originating from Eastern European countries, were registered by health insurance, registry offices etc. Also here the possibilities for changes or misspelling of names due to linguistic difficulties were manifold. For instance, instead of the Polish first name Jerzy, the German version Georg was entered, the Russian name Venjamin was changed into Benjamin and the Czech name Bedřich into Friedrich.

On account of the deviating first names in the inquiry and in the records of the International Tracing Service, inquiries could in the beginning, due to lack of experience, unfortunately often be answered negatively only. After having instituted an intensive search and called upon collaborators proficient in languages, it was often possible to ascertain equivalence of the first names and to give a positive reply. At the beginning of the activity of the International Tracing Service, the identity of the different first names had not been explained to the indemnification authorities. This neglect unfortunately had the great disadvantage that some indemnification authorities doubted on account of the different first names that the information supplied referred to the applications on hand. The result was that further inquiries and also protests followed. It was of urgent necessity to clarify these regrettable cases. Expecially for the indemnification authorities, the International Tracing Service considered it as its task to ascertain the different variations of first names in order to prove the identity of names and consequently to eliminate inconveniences for the applicants.

The discrepancies of the surnames could to a great extent be eliminated in that synonymous surnames, which in spite of deviations, were filed under one spelling in the Master Index. For this reason the alphabetical-phonetic system was adopted, taking into consideration especially the Slavonic names.

These measures were, however, not practicable with regard to first names. The only possibility existed in the making out of a list of first names and their derivations and variations. Hereby not only the identity of the various first names was to be established, thus clarifying doubtful cases, but the identical names were also to be entered in Certificates of Incarceration, Certificates of Residence and reports (for example: the Russian name Sacha = Alexander). Such indications lead to clarify a case which could otherwise be disputed by the indemnification authorities.

1st List of First Names

Already in 1949 a list was compiled in the Master Index of the International Tracing Service, with 110 main first names (this term will be explained on Page III) and their 599 variations which even in this relatively small proportion was of a certain help.

2nd List of First Names

Shortly after, Mr. M. THUDICHUM, the then Director, contacted the Central Agency for Prisoners of War of the International Committee of the Red Cross, Geneva - since the 1st of July 1960 Central Tracing Agency of the ICRC - from where he received the List of first names used there. This List, which comprises 6.098 first names was compiled on the basis of first names of separated family members, and contains besides information about their origin (country, province) also the French version. In those cases where a translation into French was not possible, the first name was merely repeated. The first names of men are marked with a "1", and the first names of women with a "2".

Example: Jean 1
Andrée 2

This marking was adopted also by the International Tracing Service.

The List received from the ICRC as well as a further one put at disposal by the American Joint Distribution Committee, Paris, in 1950 and which contains 10.562 first names, rendered possible that the International Tracing Service could begin with the supplementation of the first List.

Throughout many years no possibility was neglected to complete this List. Besides numerous dictionaries, encyclopaedias and other publications which were consulted, even first names mentioned in newspapers, correspondence etc. served as supplements.

In 1958 the International Tracing Service could present a supplemented List of first names comprising three volumes consisting of 612 pages which contain 42.595 forms of first names.

It was presumed that in course of time a supplementary List would suffice. As years passed it became obvious that due to the large number of additional new first names, it was absolutely necessary to issue a new edition, especially in order to ensure a better and more exact processing of each case, as well as to avoid inaccuracy when examining two different Lists.

3rd List of First Names

After collecting additional material for sixteen years, an issue of two volumes comprising 841 pages is now available. It contains 48.096 variations.

Referring to the handling of this List with regard to the term "main first name", the following must be explained:
The designation main first name refers in civil law to the first name generally used by a person, contrary to the second and third first names which, however, are not ordinarily used. In this List of first names the cardinal form of a first name is designated with this term from which the different variations derive. For the sake of simplicity the first names from the list of the ICRC were taken over as main first names. Under the main first name all variations - names in a foreign language, pet names, names in a shorter form etc. - are entered. The main first names under which the variations appear, are always underlined, as for example the most frequently used male first name:

Jean 1
Giovanni
Iwan
Jan
Janos
Johann
John
Wanja
(etc.) (altogether 212 variations)

Main first names that are customary for men as well as for women and do not differ in the spelling, are entered as follows:

I.) Dominique 1
Dominique = Dominique 2

II.) Dominique 2
Dominique = Dominique 1

There are also variations which may derive from two or more main first names, for instance:

Tina = Augusta 2 Christine 2 Martina 2

In cases where a main first name is at the same time a variation of another main first name, both have been underlined.

Example: Rose 2 Regine 2
Rose = Regine 2 Regine = Rose 2

Mention must be made that Regine is in fact not identical with Rose. But it has been learned from experience that, for unknown reasons, Jewish prisoners changed their first names in this way.

An exception in this scheme is made when different variations concerning a main first name occur. These names were not underlined due to the large number, possibly resulting in unclearness (Johann = John 1).

A few examples in the various languages show the different difficulties.

A comparison of the variations of Polish first names and Hungarian first names leads without an explicable reason, from one extreme to the other. In the Polish language variations are rather rare. Not more than three or four deviations are customary, e.g.

Aleksander, Olek, Oles

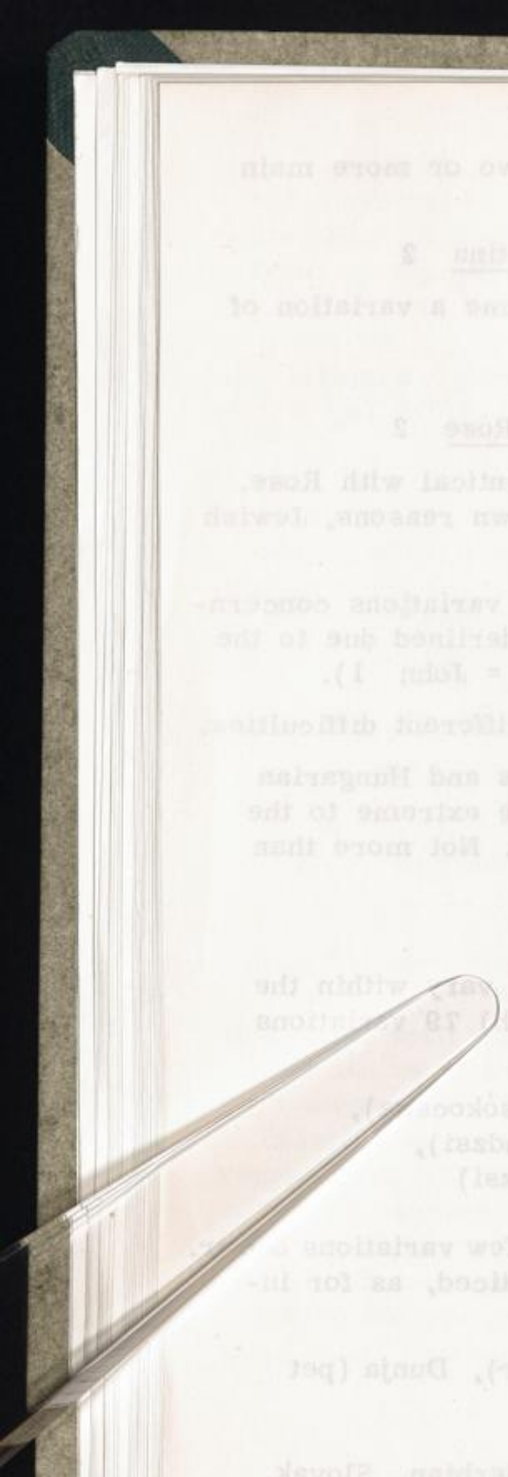
In Hungary very many more deviations occur which even vary within the different districts. Alone of the name Erzsebet (Elisabeth) 79 variations exist of which the initial letters can be:

a B (e.g. Bettuska), a C (e.g. Csöri), an E (e.g. Erzsókocska), an I (e.g. Irsa), an Ö (e.g. Örzsécske), a P (e.g. Pöndzsi), a S (e.g. Sebe), a V (e.g. Vétácska) and a Z (e.g. Zsizsi)

Not only in Polish but also in other languages only few variations occur. Of course among these, astonishing deviations can be noticed, as for instance in Russian:

Jevdokija (Greek origin) is equivalent to Avdotja (popular), Dunja (pet name) and Vivdja (Ukrainian, pet name).

In the other Slavonic languages, such as Croatian, Serbian, Slovak, Slovenian and Czech, deviations of first names do not occur to such an extent. There are, however, variations of which the equivalence can be recognized. This is also applicable to Germanic languages, for instance Danish, Dutch, German and Norwegian, as well as to Romanic languages such as French, Italian, Rumanian and Spanish. In these languages of course the number of variations differs but is, however, not of great importance. For example, for the most common female first name Anne, 26 variations are known in the German version and 11 in the French. As only very few English names appear in the documents, no difficulties arise with variations.



With regard to Jewish first names either in German, Hebraic or in Yiddish (German-jewish language), the discrepancies are relatively easy to recognize, although the variations of some first names are quite numerous. That no great difference exists is shown by three examples given of typical Jewish first names:

German	Hebrew	Yiddish
Abraham	Avraham	Avrom	(64 variations)
David	David	Dovid	(40 variations)
Moses	Mosche	Mojsche	(106 variations)

In this connection mention must be made that in numerous cases, when emigrations to Israel took place, the first names were changed into the Hebrew form. Thus, among others:

Bernhard was changed into Dov
Eva into Chava
Wolfgang into Seev

Final Remarks

For the processing of cases the List on hand is indispensable. It is furthermore a great help for the victims of persecution or for their relatives, as identity of names can be ascertained, which is made known to the competent authorities by the International Tracing Service.

One can imagine how much time, effort and work were necessary to establish this List of first names. It is to the credit of Mr. S. Osztroviczky, Chief of the Master Index II, that this immense task has been accomplished.

This List of first names is by no means a scientific work. It was compiled for internal use only and does not claim to be complete.
